One of the biggest challenges of working in the creative field is to stand out from the crowd on a regular basis. Royal Vivaah has been inspiring and guiding magazine for couple with a fresh mix of beautifully photographed features and practical advice. To constantly do something new that catches attention?

The origin of creativity begins with an idea and vision. In addition to showcasing the varied weddings of local couples across the states, each issue presents expert tips and up-to-the-minute ideas on essential topics ranging from bridal fashion and beauty to reception planning and destination weddings. Much of the editorial in the issue is in keeping with the anniversary, including shopping sections in silver and features incorporating the theme, such as Stylish Receptions - many ways to create an affordable, beautiful wedding.

Every issue of the magazine includes edited selection of the very best buys for brides, maids, grooms, mother of the bride and the reception, so there are lots of opportunities for coverage. Published in every three months with lots of new idea. Soon-to-be-married-couples today have woken up to the fact that finding and finalizing one of the best candid wedding photographers in India is as important and urgent as it is setting the date. Some of the things we have become very good at:

1. Pre Wedding Photography: Some of your favorite wedding moments don't even take place on your wedding day. These are short and fun-filled photo segments where you get to spend some quality time with your photographer before your actual wedding. Recently, couples have opted to hire their wedding photographer for more than just their main event, so that all of their best memories can be celebrated.

2. Candid Moments: We love that more couples want photos that show everybody smiling, having fun, relaxing and in general, keeping their stress levels to a minimum. A new crop of young photographers has given birth to new trend of candid wedding photography, which has gained popularity among the soon-to-be wedded couples. Not only do the photos capture natural moments but the setting is romantic.

3. Honeymoon Shoot: Honeymoon is the time when you're most likely way more stress-free than the wedding, and are at the perfect picturesque location. You either have all selfies thanks to a selfie stick, individual photos or photos together after begging people or putting on the camera timer. Else you can hire photographer to click you in proper frame. Brilliant if you can afford it we say, and totally worth it.

GROOM'S GROOMING

Gone are the days when the deprived groom would be standing in the corner while his bride became the centre of attraction in wedding. All you grooms-to-be out there, if you thought beauty care in the run up to your wedding was a girlie thing and that it's enough for you to sweat it out in gym for six-pack abs, think again! Most grooms don't surf Pinterest and Google, while their fiancés do it like it's a job. Below are some quick and easy tips to stun on your D-Day.

Hair care: Always use a shampoo that suits your hair type- oily, dry or mixture of both. Oil your hair at least twice a week, using a shampoo suiting your hair type followed by a conditioner, going to good salons for hair spas and haircuts and eating a good protein rich diet should be your hair care regime months before the wedding! When in a hurry, many of us unconsciously rub our hair with towel. Steer clear of this habit as it damages the cuticles.

Mouth care: Oral hygiene plays an important role in either bringing you closer or further away from your partner. Not brushing daily or not flossing is the bad habits to stop right now. Of course!

Complete Sleep: Sleep is also very important for a groom to get rid of dark circles and that panda eye. You need to get eight hours of sleep daily to look fresh and healthy. Drink lots and lots of water to avoid dryness also drinking and smoking should be strictly quitted

Haircut & Beard: Experimenting at last moment of your D-Day is a big no-no. Always follows your own style and look which suits on your face. Get your hair cut close your wedding date but mind well not too close. Grooms nowadays prefer to have a beardo look instead of going clean shaved. You can colour hair as well before wedding so that it's gonna shine throughout the day! Oh yes also take cake to trim your beard and moustache.

Sparkling smile: your wedding is gonna be "cheesy affair" all throughout the life. We mean to say is that you will be frequently asked that "say cheese" moments. So cut down smoking, drinking coffee or tea for stain free teeth. Your smile is your impression.

Spa Treatment: Do not think twice before spending on some spa treatment after all it's your wedding day. Opt for exfoliation and facial purification treatments, as they will get relieve of all the dirt and impurities, which clogs your skin pores. A relaxing massage is very important to ease out your stress and calm you down and rejuvenate your skin. For a natural glow you can opt for mixture of besan(Gram Flour) and malai on your face once a week.

Eating right food: stop eating oily and greasy food which clogs up your system and in turn your skin. Try to eat one fruit daily and eat healthy vegetables like carrots, beat, cucumber, tomatoes, and green salads. There are so many colorful fruits are available in the market try to grab it once in a day. Incorporate them in your diet and you will be surprised by the result. Include lean meats, poultry, fish, beans, eggs and nuts in your diet. .

Attire: Outfit choices for Indian grooms are many but what you pick depends on your tradition, culture and body type. Always coordinate color of your outfit with your bride-to-be then it will be easier for you to choose amongst various outfits. For your big day you both should go shopping together so that you will get to know each other more and pick up the dresses of each other's choice.

Accessories: The era of Indian designer is so vast and innovative towards traditional accessories which are pulling the Indian grooms towards it. You got to pick up pagris or turbans matching to you outfit or sehras or long dupattas with tassels in the end. You can opt for brooches or bracelets for your look which gonna give you move coverage than before.
